

Undergraduate Student Scholarship Application

The Scholarship Committee will only review applications that are completely filled out and have all required materials uploaded. The current deadline for the scholarship is 5 PM on March 1, 2019. All information must be submitted along with this application, either by email or by depositing the documents in the Biology Department office (Attn: Prof. Michael Salmon). The applicant must also be a declared major in the biological sciences at the time of application.

The following documents are required.

- an unofficial transcript documenting that the applicant has completed minimally 75 h of undergraduate study (i.e., is a rising junior).
- a brief description of the proposed research project, summarized in no more than 250 words, that outlines the basic question(s) and significance of the study. Any progress made toward completion of the work should also be described.
- a short letter from the marine biology faculty mentor confirming their commitment to support and supervise the student's progress toward the completion of the research project.

Required Information

Date: _____

Name: _____

FAU Email: _____@fau.edu

Your local address:

Area code and phone: (____) _____

What is your primary area of interest (check all that apply)

- Ecology, Symbioses
- Behavior, Sensory Biology
- Evolutionary Biology, Genetics
- Conservation and/or Management
- Plant or Animal Physiology
- Biomechanics

Have you previously received any scholarships or awards? If so, please list them by name and date.

Please describe any previous research experience.

Briefly describe your post-graduation educational plans.

I hereby certify that the above information is correct and complete. Falsification of any information above, or failure to meet mandated requirements, will result in forfeiture of all monies and claims for scholarship consideration. I understand that my completed application will not be returned to me and that my e-signature constitutes consent and acknowledgement of all the policies listed above.

Please sign your name: _____